

THE NAMES OF THE ANALYSTS

Collected by Richard G. Klein – New York City

This collection of the names of noteworthy analysts and analysands in the history of psychoanalysis was started independently by me in 1990. It was started when I began recording information found in biographies, articles, and studies bearing on the key players and figures in the history of psychoanalysis. The list also reflects information that I have received (word of mouth) from a number of individuals. I have put together this list without prejudice as to whether the analysts or analysands listed here are from Vienna, Berlin, Budapest, Boston or New York City.

Paul Roazen's Freud and His Followers (1973), Meeting Freud's Family (1993), How Freud Worked (1995), Brother Animal (1969), and The Historiography of Psychoanalysis (2000) have all been highly useful in helping me put this list together. I am indebted particularly to the late Dr. Paul Roazen for his many corrections and helpful suggestions.

I have also consulted Elisabeth Roudinesco's Jacques Lacan and Co. (1990) as well as Lisa Appignanesi and John Forrester's Freud's Women (1992). Ernst Falzeder's recently published study The Threads of Psychoanalytic Filiations or Psychoanalysis Taking Effect (1994), Elke Mühlleitner's Biographisches Lexicon der Psychoanalyse (1992) (for Vienna only); Peter Rudnytsky's Psychoanalytic Conversations (2000); Yann Diener's project in Paris and Alain de Mijolla's International Dictionary of Psychoanalysis (2005) have also been consulted. I have found Falzeder's 'spaghetti-chart' impossible to read or follow.

Special thanks to Peter Swales. His work has been an incredible source of information.

Patrick Mahoney has pointed out that this list does not provide information as to who supervised whom. It also fails to note that some analysts were self-analyzed first before deciding to enter analysis with a particular analyst. Professor Mahoney also reminds me that some one like Ruth Mack Brunswick, for example, had been Freud's Leibarzt (personal physician) while she was being analyzed by him and that his second Leibarzt, Max Schur, had been an analysand of Ruth Mack Brunswick. Relations between analysts and analysands were certainly at times complex during the early days of psychoanalysis.

Mario Beira has pointed out to me that the day Freud died (September 23, 1939) fell on Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement (most sacred day in the entire Jewish calendar). He also has reminded me that Karl Abraham had not only passed away on Christmas Day of 1925, but that he died while under the medical care of Wilhelm Fliess!

Mario Beira indicated that he will be writing an essay on the importance of the proper name in choosing an analyst. This essay will serve as an introduction to this list. So keep checking this website to read his essay.

A recent article published in the American Journal of Psychiatry, 155.:2, Feb 1998, 163-171) by David J Lynn and George E. Vaillant lists the names of 43 of Freud's analysands, the largest list of Freud's patient's that I have come across. Their article is well worth reading. Here is a link:

The following website, in German, lists biographical information about European female analysts has been very helpful.

EXPLANATION OF FORMAT

I begin by first listing the name of a particular analyst. Below it, I record important analysts or figures that were analyzed by that particular analyst. To the right of the name of each analysand listed under that analyst, I also provide the name of any other analyst with whom that particular analysand (might have) experienced analysis. A number is then provided after the name of each of their analysts to indicate the order in which these particular analysands experienced their analysis.

Example:

AICHHORN, AUGUST born Jul 27, 1878 Vienna, died Oct 13, 1949 Vienna
Analyzed by Federn, Paul

Analysands:

Eissler, Kurt/1 ; ---> Sterba, Richard/2 (Richard Sterba was Eissler's 2nd analyst)
Kohut, Heinz/2 1931 Marseilles, Walter/1 Eissler, Ruth/3
Mahler, Margaret/2 1927 for 2.5yrs; Deutsch, H./1; Hoffer, W/3 ; Jacobson, E./4
Tamm, Alfhild/3; Deutsch, Helene/2; Federn, Paul/1

In other words:

AICHHORN, AUGUST

Some of his analysands were:

Kurt Eissler/1

Heinz Kohut<sup>2</sup>
Margaret Mahler<sup>2</sup>
Afhild Tamm<sup>3</sup>

Let us more closely examine the first analysand listed under August Aichhorn, namely, Kurt Eissler

Kurt Eisler/1

the “/1” after “Eisler, Kurt” indicates that August Aichhorn had been his first analyst. Immediately to the right of “Eisler, Kurt/1” we find “Sterba, Richard/2” – this indicates that Richard Sterba had been Kurt Eisler’s second analyst, etc, etc. This entry system allows the reader to quickly see the number of analysts a particular analysand had and to follow the order of their analysis, that is to say, who their 1st, 2nd or 3rd analyst had been.

Reading the list horizontally and to the right after the name of the analysand, one can then see the names of this particular analysand’s other analysts. And with the “/” and number, after these other analysts’ names, one can then see if this analyst was the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, or 4th of this particular analysand.

This list is obviously a Work-in-Progress with information, at this early stage, being necessarily incomplete.

READERS WISHING TO PROVIDE INFORMATION AND TO CONTRIBUTE INFORMATION TO THIS PROJECT ARE WELCOMED TO CONTACT ME AT:

rgklein21@yahoo.com

I have at times included explanatory notes to the right and following the name of the analysand and the year they were analyzed. These notes are meant to help identify these individuals and may also serve to express reservations about information appearing in the entry. The notations ‘>EF’ means “according to Ernst Falzeder”. Likewise, ‘>EM’ means according to Elke Mühlleitner and ‘>ER’ means “according to Elisabeth Roudinesco”.
